Benefits

Variety of Modern, Well-Maintained Aircraft

Each student will obtain flight training in NMC’s fleet of brand new Cessna 172SP aircraft, equipped with the Garmin G1000 avionics system providing state-of-the-art avionics in a glass cockpit layout, complete with autopilot. Additionally, each student will gain experience in a Cessna 172RG, Cessna 152, Super Decathlon Aerobatic/tailwheel aircraft and the Supercub Seaplane. The course will therefore provide experience in a wide variety of aircraft which will result in a good understanding of performance, flight characteristics and avionics of different aircraft.

Professional Team and Individual Approach

Not only will you be designated your own Flight Instructor, who will work with you on a day-to-day basis, but the Chief Flight Instructor and Aviation Director will assess progress to ensure that you meet your personal objectives. Having a designated Flight Instructor will enable your training to be tailored to meet your specific aims and requirements.

Custom Syllabus

Syllabus and all flight time gained is specifically designed to go towards achieving both JAR-FCL and FAA Private Pilot requirements. Should you wish to stay longer at NMC Aviation and complete your FAA Private Pilot License, please advise and we can design a specific package for you. Also, should students wish to carry out additional Cross Country Flight time, and in the process see other parts of the USA, then NMC Aviation can tailor a package to suit your requirements.

Ideal Base Location/Administration/International Experience

Traverse City is in the heart of the Great Lakes region and directly adjacent to the aqua-rimmed waters of the Grand Traverse. Whilst taking time off from flying, you can enjoy the golden beaches that Traverse City provides along with a wide variety of outdoor and water sports.

In addition, the program is run by our own British CFI who will organize and ensure your visit is run smoothly and professionally. The two week course will include presentations from different aviation professionals and tours of various airport operations so you gain a complete USA Aviation Experience.

NMC Aviation has years of experience in successfully training International Students from different parts of the world including the UK, Germany, Australia and Japan.
