Transfer to one of NMC's overseas partner Universities to complete your Bachelor's or Master's Degree

NMC International Aviation Partnership Program has now developed links with several respected overseas Universities that specialize in Aviation Management, Operations or Aeronautical Engineering Degrees. Our partner Universities include:

- University of Hertfordshire, UK
- London Metropolitan University, UK
- University of West of England, UK
- University of Witwatersrand, South Africa
- Indian Institute of Aeronautical Engineering, India

We are at different stages for developing transfer agreements with each different University, however, the aim is that on completion of your Associate Degree at NMC, subject to agreement of each student specific courses and grades, you have the opportunity of transferring to one of the above Universities to gain international experience and complete your Bachelor's and/or Master's Degree.

Interested parties should email sursell@nmc.edu for further information.
