

Moodle

Moodle is NMC's learning management system. Whether you're taking face-to-face, online or hybrid courses, all NMC courses have a Moodle course page. You can access Moodle from your MyNMC student page.

Your Moodle dashboard displays a list of your current course enrollments, but please know that courses become available depending on the course start date. You might not see your courses appear here until the day the course actually begins. Moodle courses are removed from your dashboard a few days after the course end date.

Clicking on a course in the dashboard will open the course page. Instructors design their courses to fit their content, and Moodle courses can look different based on the instructor.

All instructors are asked to post a syllabus, course calendar, and contact information in Moodle, but many instructors will also ask students to submit homework, interact with classmates, take part in activities, and review course content in Moodle. All instructors are also asked to post grades in Moodle. You can check your grades by going to your user menu and clicking on "My grades".

If you want to learn more about using Moodle, click on "Online Learning Orientation" in the main menu. The Online Learning Orientation course will help you become a successful online learner in face-to-face, online or hybrid courses.

We hope you have a great semester. If you have any Moodle questions, please contact the Technology Help Desk through your MyNMC student page or call 995-3020.
